

LECTURER IN EDUCATION STUDIES

Non-Senate Faculty Lecturer
Department of Education Studies
University of California, San Diego (UCSD)

Recruitment Period:

April 26, 2017 through April 26, 2018

Description:

With a commitment to excellence and diversity the University of California, San Diego Department of Education Studies (EDS) invites applications for the position of Non-Senate Faculty (temporary/part-time lecturer) to teach undergraduate courses as well as courses in the graduate credential programs. Screening of applicants begins immediately and continues as needed. Applicants will be selected from this pool for one year; some appointments begin in the fall quarter and others in winter and spring quarters. The number of positions varies from quarter to quarter and may be renewed based on need and performance. Successful applicants may have an opportunity to teach in our Summer Session's course offerings.

EDS is an interdisciplinary department committed to equity and grounded in a close intersection between research and practice. Our mission is to collaboratively transform educational systems to better serve all students and our new colleague will share that passion. Academic offerings include undergraduate education minors, professional preparation programs in elementary, secondary, and Deaf education, and two doctoral programs. EDS Faculty research interests include linguistic and cultural diversity, teacher learning, leadership, and policy, school leadership and change, family and school partnerships, and uses of educational technology in teaching and learning. ## Teaching Responsibilities:

We are seeking outstanding lecturers who can teach/co-teach courses in the department's advanced degree and undergraduate education programs.

General Duties:

In addition to teaching responsibilities, duties include holding office hours, assigning grades, advising students and preparing course materials.

Basic Qualifications:

- Master's degree or equivalent degree at the time of application
- A strong and demonstrated commitment to furthering equity, diversity and the improvement of public education.

Additional Qualifications:

The successful candidate will have demonstrated excellence in teaching and practice experience in the subject matter field with diverse populations.

Salary:

Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications, based on UC Pay scales. Advancement as a represented Non-Senate Faculty Lecturer at the University of California is dependent upon re-appointment.

Closing Date:

Review of applications will continue until the position is filled (within the recruitment period).

To apply:

Applicants should submit a letter of interest that describes their training and relevant experience. In addition, applicants should provide a Curriculum Vitae or resume, a statement of teaching philosophy and contributions to diversity, as well as three letters of reference. Application materials should be submitted in PDF format via UCSD AP On-Line RECRUIT <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01415>, an electronic job application system.

The applicant pool will close on April 26, 2018. Candidates who have yet to receive an offer and who are interested in remaining in the pool after that time will need to submit a new application. Applications will be accepted and reviewed as the need occurs.
